They have just recently put some so called references in there so calle training manual because they were getting so many complaints from o dealers, still no phone numbers so you can't talk to any of the compani person.

They also claim every business out there is a potential client, another f claim. You can only make some money on the large electric bills, $20,0 and you will still not see the 40%-60% profit margins they claim you wil

They also claim customers will save between 15%-30% on there electri you guessed it, another false claim. I have talked to several of other de that took there so called training at the same time I did. It's almost a ye and not one has made a sale yet.

When I asked for names and phone numbers for other dealers they wo supply me with any. So I took it upon myself to track some down, I can you word for word what they said on this site, but these dealers are ve and disappointed and feel they can't do anything about their situation.

They tell you in their so called training class you will have full support company when you leave, you guest it again, another false claim.

I emailed and called with questions several times and got no reply,not of trying on my part. Their support system is a joke. They also have a v high turn over in staff,I mean high. If it is such a good company why ar many staff members jumping ship?

These dealerships are not cheap,$29,875-$39,875. Yes, thats dollars pe Easi clearly does not care if you sell jobs or not, see how much money make selling dealerships. When you ask them how many dealerships tl comparied to jobs they get in, guess what, they won't tell you.

They will not sell you a territory, stay clear of companies that do this, tl want to flood the market. I have talked with more than one dealer were has sold their company salesmen, dealerships right under there nose, ask yourself do you want to be involved with a company that works lik hope your answer was no.

Easi will tell you that this an easy sale to make, that's another false clai you are not a electrical engineer or an electrican stay clear of this rip-o very few active easi dealers that are still out there don't even buy equip from easi anymore.

Easi has been scaming hard working honest people out of there mone enough. They need to be stopped. Lets get the lawsuits underway, file reports, get involved, because together we can make a change, we hav rights.

I REALY wanted to get into this business and thought that EASI has all the answers and cred to make it happen for me. Listen to me, they do NOT.

WOW! Many thanks to you..

I have been reading this site now for months after my research on EAS across this site accidentally. I was scheduled for a late 2005 dealer trai class and I just could not get these reports out of my head! I REALY wa get into this business and thought that EASI has all the answers and credibility to make it happen for me. Listen to me, they do NOT. They m have products that do work, BUT their staff has a serious lack of exper from what my trip to visit them told me and from what I hear from other dealers, past and present, they do not care about support. AT $40,000 | dealership, they do not have to!

Investigate the industry completely before you do anything. I can only thank you to the original poster of this report as it saved me a ton of tir money. I am pursuing other avenues and am very happy. Thank you ripoffreport for this service.

Thanks again.

Glad to see others are catching on

I am glad to see that others are finally realizing what a scam EASI reall you need more information about this business opportunity fraud, ask for a guy named Scott near Toronto. He has apparently gathered suffic information about the scam that Joe Merlo and his lawyers help perpet and you should know everything he has if possible.

This is a big fraud and it's time has just about run the course.

Good luck all and I am glad you found out about this fraudulent scam i

I Almost Dove Into EASI

I am so happy I came across Rip-off Reports. I was conducting researc Easi for several days, talking with EASI's corporate office about purch the EASI Dealership. I was just putting the money together when I mad another attempt to research EASI and I came across this article about I

I didn't make the plunge, giving my $40,000 away. I will save it for a sec business opportunity. I did notice that EASI said they will not reveal an dealers, they would only tell me there were two dealers in Washington

Thanks for the information and saving me my hard earned money!

Attorneys Aid and Abet ripoff

Merlo has hired powerful attorneys who have paid off many Tennessee officials to help him continue this fraud.

Until the Feds get involved the officials in Tennessee will continue to a people all over the country and throughout Canada (specifically, the Tc area) be defrauded.

All your complaints are falling on deaf ears with the ongoing corruptio Tennessee. The Governors people and the long term effects of Al Gore Tennessee are being felt by people to honest to understand the pitiful corruption of the state of Tennessee.

Just Doing Their Job

You can make all your wild accusations about the attorneys and the ofi Tennessee if you want to. They are just dooing their job.

If Merlo is a crook, he is the guilty one. OJ got off a murder charge, Joe is just an old fashioned con man. His attorneys aint no Johnnie Cochra doing their jobs.

Merlo will die long before any of you ididots touch his money. Hell, his attorneys probabley got more off it than you fools will ever toch.

Jack must be hard up. Or, more possibly, Merlo was scared that Jack v spill the beans on the con that EASI is when the Attorney General cam upon good old Mr. Campbell. What a fraud? A convicted CON like Cam working for a CONman like Merlo.

These postings have been made, in large part, by a few disgruntled for EASI dealers. To create the appearance that numerous dealers are unh with EASI, those few former dealers frequently post messages under n different pseudonyms. In fact, our investigation has shown that those f posters actually respond to their own messages under different names do those individuals provide their true identities in the posted messag Many times, the posters use names and/or initials designed to give the impression that they are affiliated with EASI. Under the cloak of anonyı posters are essentially free to say whatever they please, regardless of their statements have any factual support. More importantly, the conte postings is never checked for accuracy and simply amounts to unfilter unverified "cybersmearing." (See http://www.bizmonthly.com/2_2001_focus/jordan1e.html for more on "cybersmearing"). We find it informative that the messages that suppo are almost always made by individuals willing to identify themselves.

For example EASI is currently a party to pending litigation involving th few disgruntled dealers described above. In fact, EASI initiated several those lawsuits and, in one case, was forced to obtain injunctive relief a former dealer who made thinly-veiled threats of violence against EASI' shareholder. As for many of the other litigants, many of them were dea less than one year and never attempted to complete, much less compl installation of an EASI system. EASI remains confident that it will prev the merits of those cases.

EASI was founded in 1982. EASI has been selling dealerships since 19 had received very few complaints until last year, which suggests that t Internet disparagement campaign and the pending litigation originated few disgruntled and unsuccessful dealers blamed their lack of success EASI and its employees. However, even after that campaign commence has still kept the door open to those former dealers in the event they s would like to make their dealerships successful, as other dealers have. continues to strive to provide good business opportunities to motivate working people. EASI cannot, however, sit idly by while anonymous de disparage the company's reputation.

Dealerships or Franchises??

Reply EASI Franchises

Hello all,

At a recent entrepreneur show in Washington D.C., Tye told one of my salesman that EASI would begin selling "franchises" some time aroun July.

When will EASI officially roll out the franchising plan? How will franchi differ from the "affiliate" agreements? Will there be any difference in p structure? What is the incentive for current dealers to purchase franch

I look forward to hearing from you

Reply Re: EASI Franchises

EASI will eventually move to a Franchise model. Existing Dealers will r and will have the opportunity, for a period, to upgrade to a Franchise if desire. The details of the program are still being developed, so we're n to go "public" yet. Therefore, this conversation never took place.
Joseph Merlo, Chief Executive Officer
Energy Automation Systems, Inc.

You were eavesdropping!!! Now stop that. Franchisees will not have ex or restricted territories. The terms and provisions of all existing Dealer not be affected in any way.
Joseph Merlo, Chief Executive Officer
Energy Automation Systems, Inc.

Joe,

I respect EASI's position to wait for all of the details to be worked out b they go public with the opportunity.

What I don't understand is, if that is the case why are EASI representat using that as a sales pitch to prospective dealers in a public venue? Th sounds "public" to me.

Don't you think that this sends mixed messages?

Yep, I agree it was a case of TMI (too much information).

Just FYI

IN case anyone cares, 8 to 10 of the people that are currently pictured a "STAFF" on the energyautomation.com website are not even THERE ai more. Some have been literally gone for months if not years so it is not that someone has not gotten around to updating the site. I called to EA other day and asked for 5 of the 10 and after I asked for the 5th person, just hung up on me. NICE way to treat a dealer huh?

Turnover and bankruptcies

That is nothing.

Turnover in this scam should be expected.

The real deal is knowing that the President of EASI, Paul Bleweis, is a f failed dealer who went bankrupt from his EASI dealership.

Joe Merlo will brag about how successful Blewweis was as a delear, bu got to wonder why he went bankrupt as a dealer.

This is a big time scam and hopefully the Tennesse Attorney General w finally catch up with the con artist Merlo.

Franchise talk, false names and alternative

I want to start by saying the Energy Conservation business is a good business.

As to why people do not give out there real names is because as a dea could find their contract with EASI cancelled for speaking out against I and Mr. Merlo. Unless they are set up with a new supplier they will find themselves suddenly without product for their business. Resulting in t of that persons business. Also, if Mr. Merlo knows who you are he will distroy the person with legal fees. We know that those who have the m typically win one on one legal battles. It would be silly to put the real n: down in many cases.

As for the franchise, well that has been in the works back when Jack C was with the company. In fact there were papers signed to get it starte in 2001 but for some reason it never happened and I wonder if it ever w it just talk.

There are places a EASI affiliate can go to cut away from EASI and still maintain product and get support. I did and I was taken in without payi dime. I suggest those who like and believe in the business and want to away from EASI contact Energy Design Services or Smith Environment can be found on the internet. They have much of the same equipment t EASI has and more, and at better prices too.

Also, the complaints on EASI go back much further than 18 months ag know people where upset with EASI at least since 2000 when Jack Can was with the organization. It is just that most of those are no longer in business. In fact non of the people I was in the class with of 20 are still business.

If you are looking to get started in the business Enercon International I is a good company. I know there must be other good companies out th

EASI has not cleaned up all their lies

Probably on the advise of counsel, EASI has tried to "clean up" variou they have told to dealers and prospective dealers. However, they have been thorough in their attempt.

Taken from the EASI website under company history:

"The company's business model, however, changed dramatically in 19
the geographic location and the way EASI did business turned in a nev direction. After 8 years of success as a direct sales company in New Y
EASI became a distributor-based manufacturing company in Tennesse

EASI's attorney just said that EASI has been in business since 1982, bu claims that they have been in business since 1977. A small lie perhaps another lie regardless.

EASI has removed all references to the number of installations of the E system. They have been hammered on this issue over and over and mu determined that it was a LIE that could not continue. I suspect they stil would be dealers some outrageous number to entice them to purchase EASI's attempt at "cleaning up" this lie could not control the website information of various dealers as follows:

Why would these dealers claim such a number if EASI had not previou

Joe's claim that he was in the energy saving business since 1977 is no complete lie. The attorney is corrected that EASI started in 1982, but Jc another company called Multi Energy Concepts prior to that time.

Franchising SCAM and more LIES!!!

I can tell you that we were telling people about the plans to start offerir as a franchise as far as back as early 2000. The idea was and still is tha lends us alot of quick and easy credibility!!! "Jee, if EASI is putting tog FRanchise program, they must be legitimate AND I better buy in quick the price goes up". That was the mentality that EASI is after when talki about franchising.

In addition, TYE SWIFT, anyone ever heard opf that name? It is rumore he is back with EASI and back on the franchise tradeshow circuit. If an has information about that, please post it here so we can start to recon the dots that were erased over the last few years by all of EASI's threat legal wranglings against people just trying to get the truth out there an some answers to questions posed to Joe Merlo, Jack Campbell, Paul B Bob Depalo, Bill Theissen, Tye Swift, Donna Swift, the swift Children accomplices, Lloyd Spendriff and a whole host of others over the year run, hide, lie and threaten rather then just answer up the claims that th made!

Does anyone know the whole history behind Tye Swift??? If so, lay it o here please.

Also, the Scott from Canada. He is Scott Hunsberger from the Toronto believe. He has single handedly unravelled alot of the EASI mystery an deceit, probably more than anyone else in the history of the scam, and been the victim of attack from our lawyers. Paul and the State of South Dakota

This post from Paul Saxton is interesting. Information I recently obtain the State of South Dakota indicates that EASI has successfully re-obtai permission to sell dealerships within the state.

They had previously been banned from doing so through actions taker none other than Paul Saxton. As previously rumored, disclosure docur filed with the State of South Dakota show that Paul Saxton "settled" his grievances with EASI on or around May 2, 2003.

One of the current plaintiffs versus EASI had forwarded several deroga mails about EASI from Paul Saxton. As a non-litigant, I am not bound b rulings preventing the release of such information. I will post the e-mai exchange where Paul Saxton informed several dealers of EASI's scam.

It appears that Paul Saxton was truly "paid off".
